OPENING CEREMONIES

On Sunday, June 4th, at McCain Auditorium the 63rd annual opening ceremonies for Boys' State took place. The speakers included Senator Sam Brownback and Lt. Governor Gary Sherrer. One of the main points that both of these men introduced was how great of a program Boys' State is.

Senator Brownback gave his philosophy about experiencing goodness before greatness. He gave specific examples such as Martin Luther King was a good person before he became a great civil rights leader, and Abraham Lincoln was a good person before he became one of the greatest presidents of all time.

Lt. Governor Sherrer introduced the importance of the three c's: courage, character, and commitment. He stressed the significance of having good character no matter what you do. He also said that a person with unlimited courage and commitment can go a long way in life. The final point that he made was that a person should stand up for what they believe in and speak out for it.

Something to keep in mind is that both speakers said "Boys' State is as fun as you make it out to be."

DO YOU HEAR WHAT I HEAR?

With primary elections tomorrow afternoon, the candidates have been narrowed down to 20. That's two from each county and you probably don't know who is running for governor outside of your county here at the 63rd session of Kansas Boys' State. At this point it is very important for everyone to hear what each candidate has to offer and with our limited amount of space we obviously can't do that, but we can give you a list of everyone running in the primary. But it is still up to you to get out and hear these candidates.

Here is a list of those candidates who will be on the ballot tomorrow: from Kennedy County for the Federalists is Brian Daerksen and the Nationalist is Noah Moos. From Seitz County on the Federalist ticket is William Gardenhire and the Nationalist Andy Soule. In King County Leo Khayet is representing the Feds with Nick Migliazzo holding down the Nationalists. For MacArthur County the Federalists candidate is Greg Heisel and Robert Smail is the Nationalists. Eisenhower County has David Beehler representing the Federalist party and Seth Feist for the Nationalists. Federalist candidate for Bradley County is Heath Mireles and Chaz Steimel is the Nationalist candidate. Powell County candidates are Ryan Gordan for the Federalists and John Lick for the Nationalists. From Pershing county is Federalist Rich Craig and Nationalist Austin Wells. Patton County has Yannic Dozier from the Federalists and Ryan Ebright from the Nationalists. Michael Fry is Marshall County's Federalist representative and Josh Burnett is their Nationalist.

This promises to be a tight primary election and a tough decision for every voter, but as was said before we encourage everyone to go hear these young men speak so you can make an educated decision as to who will be our governor for the 2000 session of Boys' State. Good luck to all and may the best man win.

STATE CANDIDATES

With nearly 700 delegates attending Boys' State, I'd be willing to bet that the majority of you have no idea who is running for office outside of your county. I'm sure that a few of you don't even know who's running from your county. With that in mind, here's a brief overview of who you can expect to see running for the various offices.

In this summary of candidates, you will not find names of those delegates running for governor (due to its overseeing place in the governmental hierarchy, the position of governor has its own article in the Staters' Gazette). Nor will you find names of those running for offices of senator or representative. You will, however, find candidates for attorney general, state treasurer, secretary of state, and commissioner of insurance.

From Bradley County, attorney general candidates are Nationalist Justin Herron, and Federalist Christopher Feuerborn. The state treasurer candidate for Bradley County is Danny Rasure, Nationalist, and the Bradley County secretary of state candidate is Jarrett Leeds, also a Nationalist.

attorney general candidates from Kennedy County are Ben Sumner, Brandon Gillette, and Tony Suaty III, all Federalists. The state treasurer candidate is Dustin Maschmeier, Nationalist, and Kennedy County's secretary of state candidate is Federalist Jacob Torres.

King County attorney general candidates are Nationalists Kendall Betts and Ben Procter, and Federalist Grant Mulkey. Commissioner of insurance candidates are Kevin Greene and Harrison Osbourn, both Federalists.

From MacArthur County, the attorney general candidate is Nationalist Drew Sell, the state treasurer candidate is Jeff Silver, Nationalist, and the secretary of state candidate is Rusty Glenn, also a Nationalist. The MacArthur County commissioner of insurance candidate is Federalist Ross Norris.

Christopher Pieschl, a Nationalist, is the attorney general candidate for Eisenhower County.

Lawrence Burger and Sean Patton, both Federalists, are the attorney general candidates for Marshall County. Marshall County's state treasurer candidate is Federalist Nathan Ewert.

The candidates for attorney general from Patton County are Nationalist Steele Smith, and Federalists Michael Fenton and Michael Deines. The Patton County state treasurer candidate is Jeffrey Robinson, Federalist, and the secretary of state candidate is Nationalist Carl Scharenberg.

The attorney general candidate from Pershing County is Federalist Blake Nelson, and the state treasurer candidate is Jerry Mays, Nationalist. secretary of state candidates are Travis Coberly, Federalist, and Avery Smith, Nationalist.

The Powell County attorney general candidate is Steven Bartkoski, Federalist. Secretary of state candidates are Nationalist Daniel Vieyra and Federalist Ian Ostrander. The Powell County commissioner of insurance candidate is Eric Strawder, Federalist.

Josh Krause, Federalist, is the attorney general candidate for Seitz County, and the candidate for Seitz County's secretary of state is Shaun Reed, Nationalist.

Good luck to all the candidates.
